SAN DIEGO--Southwest Regional Maintenance Center (SWRMC) employees participated in Naval Base San Diego's Earth Day event April 22 in an effort to capture and properly dispose of litter and reduce electrical usage.

Volunteers picked up trash throughout their designated areas, while those unable to leave their workspace were encouraged to turn off anything unnecessarily drawing power.

"We take pride in our establishment and our base," said SWRMC Command Master Chief Anthony Rivera. "As tenant neighbors we have a vested interest in keeping the base looking clean and presentable."

Earth Day, a nationally recognized event, reminds people of their commitment to environmental protection and community engagement. This year, over 45 naval installations around the world have participated in Earth Day.
